Like us? Please rate us! Your feedback is important! I find it very addictive! The newer games seem to have a lot more ways to get your banking role higher. Home of fun is my favorite casino game!! The new games just keep getting better! Play these games with headphones recording them to a new level. Now with 1 swipe ., you can easily get to your favorite games. Thank you COURT!! I've loaded many different casino games, but I always come back to COURT when I want to play one of my favorite games. This game is the best of the best. I love each of the characters, they are all unique in their own way! This is my favorite past time! The more you play the better it gets! And the new games just keep coming. I also love the other ways to make extra coins, I collect photos and coins how fun it is!! I just love this game!!! This game sure helps pass the time while I'm sheltering in place. It's not really easy to win, that's what I like about it. It gives you a sense of satisfaction when you walk away a winner! I've played this game for years. There are changes that have made the experience worse. They have 3x xp on vacation and random days that it used to happen often. Now it looks only once or twice a year and your birthday. Way too many pop-up ads. I stopped playing. Nothing more annoying than logging in and being bombarded with 5 or more pop-ups first. Why can't they just put the offers in your inbox? They added special side games with goals and rewards. But... seems that when one is active you win less often. You lose all your coins quickly, and only the players with high balance ever get to complete these missions. Finally, they started sending free coin emails instead of put them in your inbox. The most annoying process I've ever seen in a game site. I need to click on the email link, then it takes me to safari, which makes me approve the app store, which then opens the game app. Then pop up to pop-up ad. I stopped bothering. In the past, the link used to go directly to their app to the offer. Before they just sent it to the in game inbox inbox was the most convenient. Who has all the time to waste? I miss the game, but I'm sure there are better games just like this out there with better procedures and programming. I'm sorry to hear that you feel that way. The game is growing to suit your needs more. 🍀 thank you for your feedback. Here is a gift from us! played their matches for over a year and I've considered returning to this one because trench and quit has become so bad recently. Have me all 5 seconds to see an event that is not worth the cost of doing. A fake add says welcome back here is a 100 free twist and 1 million coins the free twist exists at least lol played on such an impossibly low bet they average out at about 5k gold each less than a chip link usually gives. You are going to collect your gifts it says keep on you might have opened up for very fast if you want to get coins buying them or open more when she's too late for the event. They took away the old best machines to use your friends free spin gifts, and then it brought back changes like that's what people wanted. The only good part of the game is they have some unique machines.. that you are unable to play again because they are behind a shallow wall so ridiculous that im level 11k in slolomonia and less than 400 in this. I started the other games for the loyalty point versus this one, but I don't even bother the effort to collect the links for this, the game was so badly supported. And before they say otherwise just know the other playtika games have live chat so you can get a problem fixed if you have a certain rank real quickly. This game doesn't care about you it just wants to tease you with 1 dollar offers that are sometimes tempting, but overall id they pay them to play a working game, but not a load of trash. I'm sorry to hear that you feel that way. The game is growing to suit your needs more. 🍀 thank you for your feedback. Here is a gift from us!
